The Continental Z134 had a canister type filter that mounted on the side of the block. I like to update and add the spin on filter kit whenever possible as pieces may be lost out of the old canister filter and those parts are not available any more. That update also applies to the early Z145 engines. The late Z145 in the 230, 235 and 245 tractors, the block was made for the spin on oil filter. There is a difference between the cams and distributors in the Z120, Z129, Z134 and the Z145 engines.

There are several Z134 blocks on there now but no Z120 or Z129 today. You can also purchase a rebuilt short block or long block from CT Farm and Home and Tractor Supply. They will take your cracked block in exchange as long as it is complete. If the cracks are only between the cylinders on the top of the block it is not necessary to repair them.

Be sure to use a shop or service with experience repairing these engine blocks. The cost often includes a charge for line boring which should always be done after a block is repaired. You can replace the Z129 block with a Z134 block but there are several modifications that will have to be made to the water pump and pump casting.
